

New year, new life

Every winter, the rain invites a flush of bright green seedlings to carpet the forest floor. Meet the smallest plants that live at Redwood Grove.

Petty spurge

Euphorbia peplus

MEDITERRANEAN

Branching form, with egg-shaped leaves and toxic milky sap

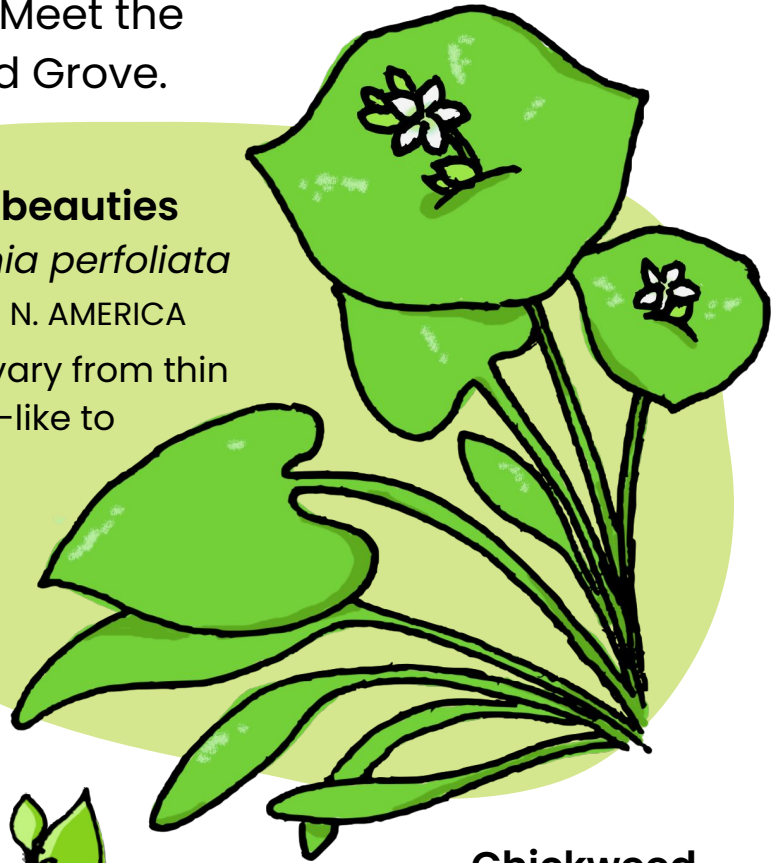

NATIVE RANGE

Spring beauties

Claytonia perfoliata

WESTERN N. AMERICA

Leaves vary from thin to heart-like to circular

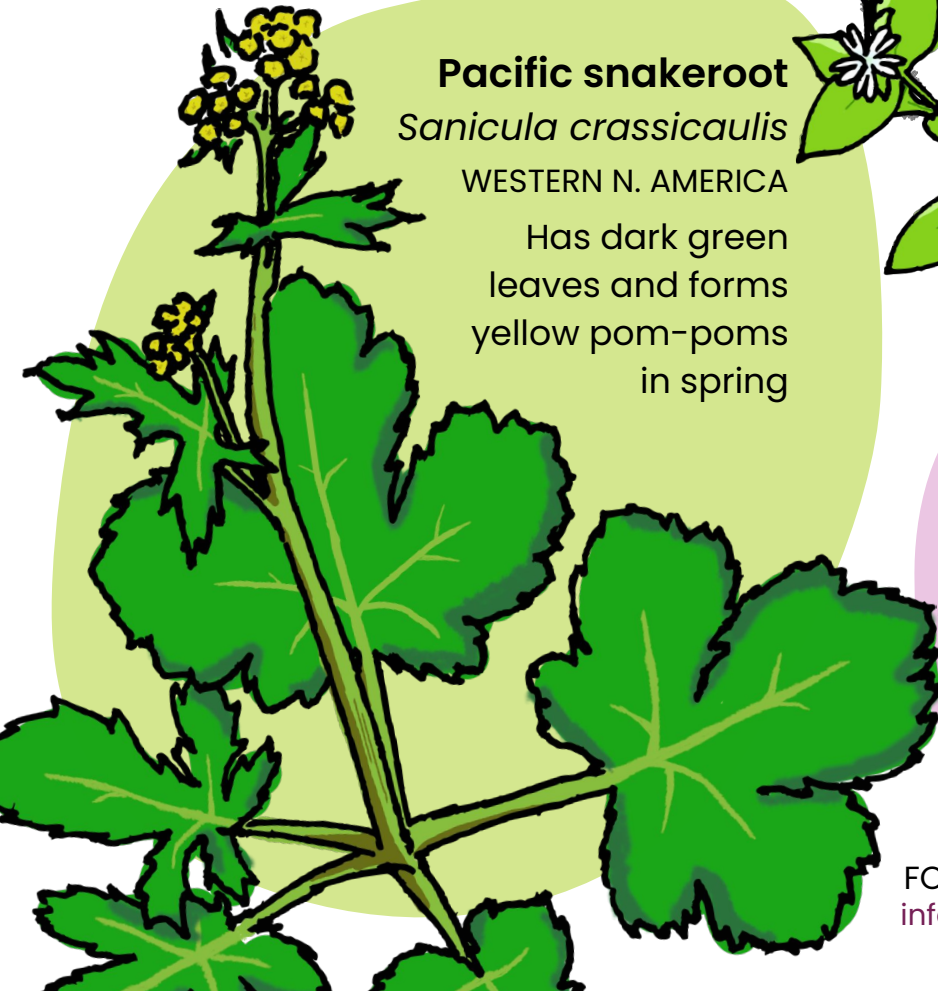

TO SCALE

Pacific snakeroot

Sanicula crassicaulis

WESTERN N. AMERICA

Has dark green leaves and forms yellow pom-poms in spring

Chickweed

Stellaria media

EURASIA

10-lobed flowers, hairy stems, and opposite leaves

Cleavers

Galium aparine

WORLDWIDE

Whorled leaves stick to clothing like velcro

FOR MORE INFO, CONTACT
info@grassrootsecology.org